

Chapter 1

Midst - In the middle of something.

(The midst of summer break was still a long way to go.)

Shroud - A piece of cloth used for wrapping dead body.

(A piece of shroud had massive amount of dust that caused sneezing.)

Taunted - To reproach in an insulting manner.

(The classmates would taunt the little boy.)

Pauper - A poor person considered as a beggar.

(The pauper was begging for food and money.)

Steward - A financial agent.

(A man who was sturdy showed his steward card.)

Deign - A superior action.

(The deign apology seemed decent.)

Transgression - An action that shows offensiveness.

(A little transgression from the Middle Ages caused a harsh penalty.)

Poaching - To stew something with liquid.

(The poached stag seemed delicious to the King.)

Forfeit - To lose something.

(The forfeiting life seemed furious.)

Chapter 2

Ceased - To stop.

(The snow ceased in the middle of January.)

Welt - A lump.

(After 10 minutes of bleeding, I felt a welt across my forehead.)

Minions - A follower.

(The minions of heaven were kind and caring.)

Parchment - A thin paper.

(The parchment was a message from the God.)

Kin - A family related to you.

(The kin of the fish are variable in kinds.)

Transfixed - To become paralyzed.

(The dry ice made my hands transfixed.)

Avail - A success or use.

(It was no avail when I chased the bus after it the bus that passed me by.)

Chapter 3

Recurrence - Something that happens again.

(In case of recurrence, we will report this to the teacher.)

Mortality - To have a single life.

(Every human-beings were born with mortality.)

Impoverished - To make something poor.

(The man impoverished his family by wasting all of his money.)

Jests - A joke or amusement.

(The jests that the joker made was no joke at all.)

Shunned - To get ignored or rejected.

(When the man begged for engagement, he was shunned.)

Plight - A misery situation.

(Who knew that she could fix her plight?)

Serf - An agricultural worker who works under Lord's estate.

(The serf of the land was ultra-careful to what they were doing.)

Mercenary - A money-greeded person.

(Most of the rich people were one of the mercenaries.)

Chapter 4

Untoward - Something unexpected.

(An untoward situation made them awkward.)

Thatch - A roof made out of such leafs.

(The thick thatch roof protected us from the blazing sun.)

Bailiff - A person who searches for the criminal.

(The murderer was hiding away from the bailiff.)

Reeve - A president of a village.

(The reeve proclaimed that all of the taxes should be payed by January.)

Mean - To lack of something.

(The mean construction was very low-qualified.)

Pinnacle - A big pointy rock.

(A pinnacle reminded me of an upside-down icecream cone.)

Meander - To follow a route.

(The east of the Red Sea meandered Nile River.)

Impenetrable - Something that is unpassable.

(The concrete built wall was impenetrable and solid.)

Fallow - A farmland that is not complete with its planting process.

(The owner of that empty fallow needed more cows to graze.)

Infidels - The nonreligious people.

(Many religion-believers loathed infidels.)

Chapters 5&6

Canonical - Divisions of time by Christians.

(The canonical hours were sacred to Christians.)

Strident - A loud and harsh voice.

(A strident voice made my ears hurt.)

Clamor - A loud and confusing voice.

(A clamor voice made me confused.)

Apprehension - An anxiety of something bad would happen.

(Every students had a feeling of apprehension before the test date.)

Implore - To beg someone desperately.

(The beggar implored for food.)

Hue - Color or shade.

(The natural hue for the plant was very unique.)

Cry - To say something in a miserable and loud voice.

(The lion cried when its babies were getting eaten by its predators.)

Chapter 7

Skittish - Nervous and shy.

(The skittish child was very scared of his performance.)

Petitions - A formal request.

(The petitions from the steward was complicated.)

Moot - An assembly held for debate.

(The moot was important for the King in Medieval times.)

Treason - The action of betraying.

(Lord Furnival treated all talking as a treason.)

Plight - Miserable events.

(Every event that occurred for Asta's son was a plight.)

Curfew - An hour of which people are suppose to stay indoors at night.
(When the curfew bell rang, all of the people were suppose to stay indoors.)