

CH1

midst: I was in the midst of making dinner when my mother called me.

shroud: When my grandfather died, they covered him in a shroud and placed him in the coffin.

taunted: My little sister was often taunted at school so I told the principal.

pauper: The classic tale, "The Prince and the Pauper" has been made into a Disney production.

steward: John Aycliffe, the steward, tried to kill Crispin.

deign: The wealthy people often deigned the people that lived in poverty.

transgression: People that transgress are considered criminals.

poaching: "I prefer my eggs poached", I said, as I ordered the waiter.

forfeit: Going out of the penalty lines resulted in a forfeit.

CH2

ceased: The rain ceased when we were about to go swimming.

welt: I had a welt after I practiced soccer.

minions: The minions did well on my jobs for them.

parchment: I found a parchment while digging for medieval artifacts.

kin: The children at the orphanage have no kin whatsoever.

transfixed: I was transfixed as soon as I stepped into the haunted house.

avail: When I tried to finish the project before class, it was to no avail.

CH3

recurrence: His recurrence of health surprised everyone.

mortality:

impoverished:

jests:

shunned:

plight: The flight to Afghanistan was very plight.

serf:

mercenary:

CH4

untoward: The untoward things that happened to me had been all forgotten.

thatch: The hut's thatch was very unstable and was leaking.

bailiff: Our bailiff was lazy and gluttonous. It was right for him to get fired.

reeve: The reeve of our town is very kind.

mean: The orphanage person gave us a very mean amount of food.

pinnacle: The pinnacle of the mountain was very high.

meander: Our meander to the house was a short cut.

impenetrable: His brick wall of the house was impenetrable.

fallow: The fallow land was very organized.

infidels: My parents were infidels so they often did not go to church.

CH5/6

canonical: The canonical was very loyal to his duty.

strident: Our show ended with a strident ending.

clamor: The clamor for water in Africa was very violent.

apprehension: My apprehension for the test could not be ceased.

implore: I implored for another chance at the quiz I had failed.

hue: My hue of my skin was very white and I almost fainted.

cry: When I get sick, I cry for my mother to come.

CH7

skittish: He was very skittish at the thought of going to the amusement park.

petitions: Our petitions to the principal had been ignored.

moot: He had a very big moot after the test.

treason: The criminal's treason resulted in a lifetime of jail.

plight: The flight to Afghanistan was very plight.

curfew: I had a curfew until 11:00 PM at home.